

Working with a word family poem

We read a poem related to a new word family every week. We circle the words with a word family ending. We discuss what the poem is about. We find nouns, verbs, adjectives and pronouns in the poem. We discuss verbs in the poem: Are they in the present or past tense? We watch videos about a new word family, brainstorm new words that belong to a word family and write them down. After reading the poem, the kids draw a picture of what they visualized.
